The hilltop land to stay forever young

Meet your neighbours. Matheran, Bhimashankar, Khandala

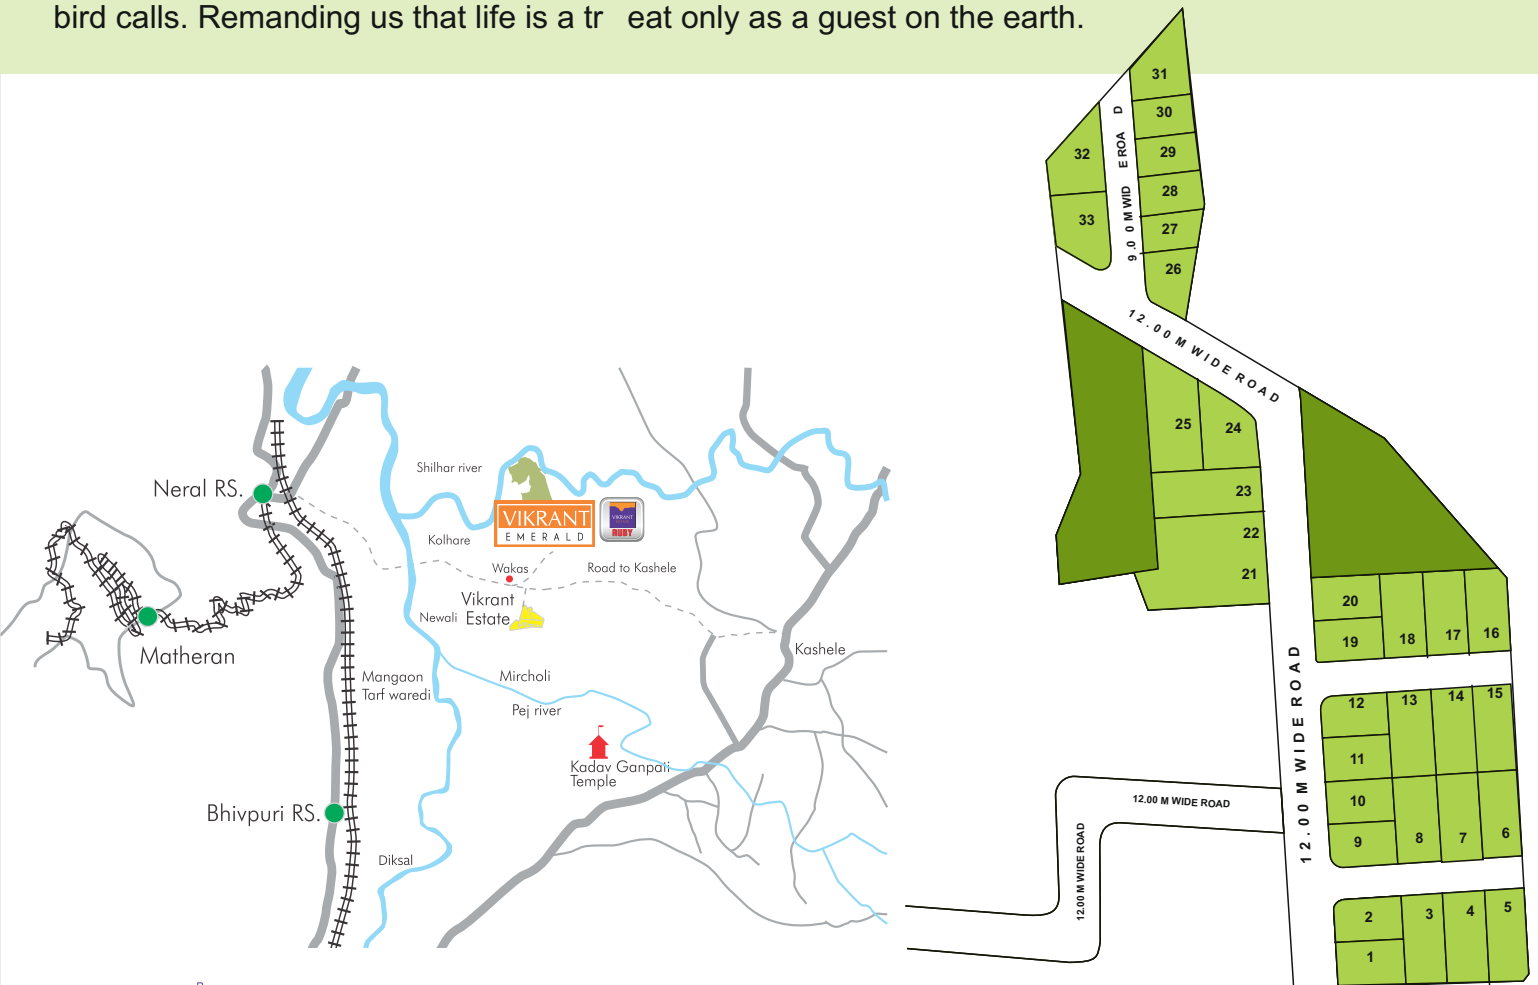

You can have better neighbours than these. Silent, majestic tolerant and magnificent to look at any time of the day. Step out of your home and meet the beautiful hill stations of Maharashtra twinkling in the distance. The narrow-gauge rail line, 21 km long, runs from Neral to Matheran. The nearby major towns of Badlapur and Karjat are easily accessible by road.

Vikrant Emerald is just 6 kms away from the Neral station. Driving downhill is a breeze of course, but you can hop onto a public transport or even walk to the property from the station if you want. If you want. It's a destination that's close enough to run away to, whenever one desires.

The hills are alive with the sound of nature

We intend that free residents and the squatters of your land never leave. Neral hills come alive with the music of flowing water, the patter of rains, the swish of the gentle breeze and the glory of bird calls. Reminding us that life is a treat only as a guest on the earth.
